DATE: June 16, 2000

SUBJECT: Durable Pavement Striping Payment

For contracts containing durable pavement striping, Type I tape and thermoplastic, pay 75 percent of the unit bid price upon completion of the work. Provided the minimum retroreflectivity requirements are met after the 180-day proving period, the pay the remaining 25 percent. When non-specification material is allowed to remain, no additional payment will be made. When removal and replacement is required, the 180-day proving period once again applies to determine the status of the remaining 25 percent.

This method of payment should be applied to current contracts let under the 2000 specifications, and will be listed in the Supplemental Specifications included in the proposals of future contracts.
